Health Spotlight – Wash Your Hands, Please!

Wash your hands! That's right — washing your hands is a good way of avoiding colds. Why? It's simple. The common cold is caused by any of about 200 viruses that enter your body through mucous membranes in your nose and mouth.

These highly contagious viruses are able to remain alive outside the human body for some time, so when you touch a surface (such as a telephone, or a door handle that someone with a cold has recently touched or sneezed and coughed upon) and then touch your own nose and mouth, there's a good chance that you'll also catch a cold.

Stress also contributes to catching a cold. Normally, your immune system fends off the viruses. However, if you're not sleeping, eating, and exercising properly, your immune system is weakened, and is less able to keep viruses at bay.

Prevention is key. Take time to relax, go for a walk, socialize with family and friends, eat proper meals, and don't forget to wash your hands! But, if you do catch a cold, get lots of rest, and drink plenty of liquids. It's true, during rest and sleep, the human body releases very powerful immune system-enhancing compounds.

Hot chicken soup – studies show that this timeless remedy really does alleviate cold symptoms by triggering mucous secretions, making your stuffy nose feel better. Plus, the warm, nostalgic feelings that are associated with comfort foods such as chicken soup have a beneficial psychological effect, too.

Oscillococcinum – This homeopathic preparation is a fast-acting remedy that checks the development of flu-like symptoms such as fever, chills, shivering, and associated aches and pains. As with many homeopathic remedies, Oscillococcinum is non-toxic and has no known adverse reactions. Take Oscillococcinum as soon as you feel flu-like symptoms, then continue as directed. For more about homeopathic treatments, ask the pharmacist team at Howe Sound Pharmacy.
